Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-9, drawn to a method of screening a human subject for a solid tumor comprising determining whether said tumor expresses p95^{ErbB2}, measuring ErbB2 extracellular domain (ECD), wherein the subject has been previously treated with a p185^{ErbB2} inhibitor and trastuzumab.

Group II, claim(s) 10-26, drawn to a method of treating a subject with a solid tumor comprising treating said subject with a p95^{ErbB2} inhibitor, wherein the subject has been previously treated with trastuzumab.

Group III, claim(s) 27 and 28, drawn to a method of screening a subject comprising determining whether a tumor expresses an elevated level of p95^{ErbB2} and treating the said subject with a p185^{ErbB2} inhibitor.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I-III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

The special technical feature recited in claim 1 is a method comprising determining whether a tumor expresses p95^{ErbB2}. U.S. Patent 6,541,214 (filed November 13, 1998), as well as Molina et al. (Clinical Cancer Research 8(2): 347-353, February 2002/ IDS reference 15 submitted February 1, 2006) teach detection of p95^{ErbB2} in breast cancer tissue, see patent, column 12, Example 6; and Molina, Table 1 on page 349, respectively. Therefore, the technical feature recited in claim 1 is not special. Accordingly, the groups are not so linked as to form a single general concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
